Bringing value to local content around the globe

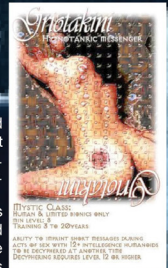

The late Night talk show host, "I don't know if you're one of the few people on the planet that hasn't seen this video yet.

-canned laughter-

It is the most popular video on the cloud tonight.

Conspiracy theorist around the world are having a fit with this one. As they have all recognized the lyrical inconsistencies in the next story include the formula for a Blueberry Ginger Frost Bite Phosphate...
...And the word Piwinkle.

But, let's look... this evening in a down river suburb of Detroit, a woman name of Martes Czarny, celebrated turning exactly thirty three and a third. That thirty three years, one hundred twenty one days and eight hours, by performing a forty five minute concert and strip tease before the security cameras of several local businesses in the community. Including a gas station, liquor store and drive thru restaurant. We're not naming them, because they're not paying us.

-canned laughter-

Well anyway, hundred of people gathered, preventing police and EMS from detaining Martes, until this unidentified man arrived and she collapsed in the street shouting, "Mr. Happy's here and he's buggin'." End quote. The crowd recorded and uploaded video of the spectacle. Many citing the track list and critiques of her performance.

Seen here he covers her with a blanket...

...She stands up...

...Throws the blanket off...

...Screams something incoherent...

...Spins...Shuffles her feet...

and falls to her knees again.

Martes repeats this three times.

Before being carried off shouting

"Movin'...Groovin'"

Now, mind you it is thirty eight degrees in Detroit.

Universally, critics are in complete agreement of two things, the woman performing this feat is one ugly pasty skinny bitch and she gave a damned good show.

Coming up tonight we have...

In the Ambulance, Martes says, "I have a message from the Action Man" She knelt at my side, laid her head on my knee and said, "Nigger. If you want your money, you're gonna have to come down here and take it! I never did anything out of the blue. Woah woah. I promise. I'm sorry... It'll never happen again."

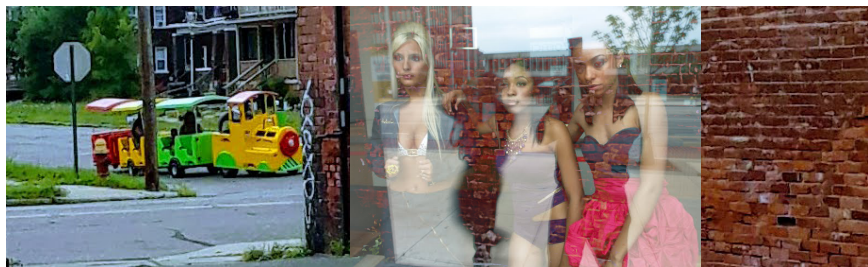

Then she falls asleep.

SHINING STAR,
